

July 2006

Staying in an apartment in Paris is a wonderful way to experience this stunning city - especially when it is located in one of the nicest areas of Paris with proximity to the Metro station, quality restaurants and rue Cler with its variety of specialty food shops.

We found the apartment to be very tastefully and thoughtfully appointed and it really does feel like a "home" away from home when you return after a day of sightseeing.

Helen & Tony    Sydney NSW