

Fiona and Paul,

Kay and I would like to extend our thanks for the opportunity to stay in your Paris apartment in October this year. We found it to be most comfortable and located in the very best area with easy access to all the popular sights. Most importantly the apartment is in an area where one can "live the life" of a local and discover cafes and bars mostly frequented only by locals. As well as these discoveries we were able to gain knowledge from the comments made in the visitor's book in the apartment which saved us valuable time during our stay. A testament to our enjoyment was the decision to stay an extra four nights in Paris in lieu of travels to the countryside, a decision which we did not regret.

We would recommend "23bis" to any prospective tenants and would be only too happy to be contacted by them should they wish to discuss our experience in detail.

We have attached some photos including the chocolate stiletto which causes "oohs" and "aahs" whenever we show it.

Many thanks once again and have a wonderful 2007.

Regards,

John and Kay.
